Sh#ft Happens: Final presentation

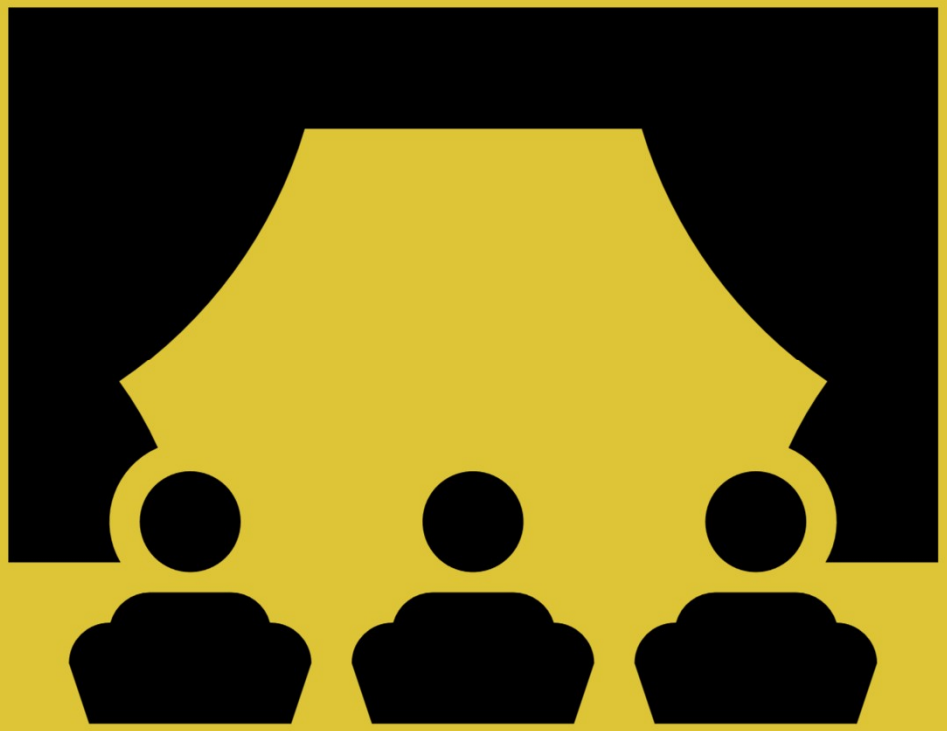

Research and Mapping

With your GROUP present in 20 minutes:

- The subject you dived into: What did you find? What is salient and obvious? What is less obvious and what are possible connections to other societal subjects? Please explain with the help of the different models.
- The systems-map you created of your subject including mental models. Explain its development process.

Back casting:

- The long-term-vision your group envisioned.
- The two interventions that seem promising. Explain why you chose those interventions.

Personal growth

After that you INDIVIDUALLY present in 5 minutes:

- What are your own beliefs and values around your subject and how do they influence your interventions/project?
- Reflect on the 'Shift happened' regarding your own perspective when you:
  1. Gathered new insights (within theory or analysis), other perspectives/ideas/values/beliefs/etc. during this honours lab. Incorporate the upper three logical levels: values/beliefs, identity, and purpose.
  2. Explicitly challenged your beliefs and values like we practiced today
